Saddle Information

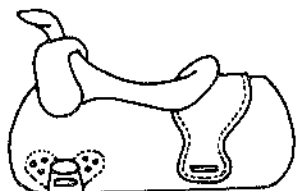

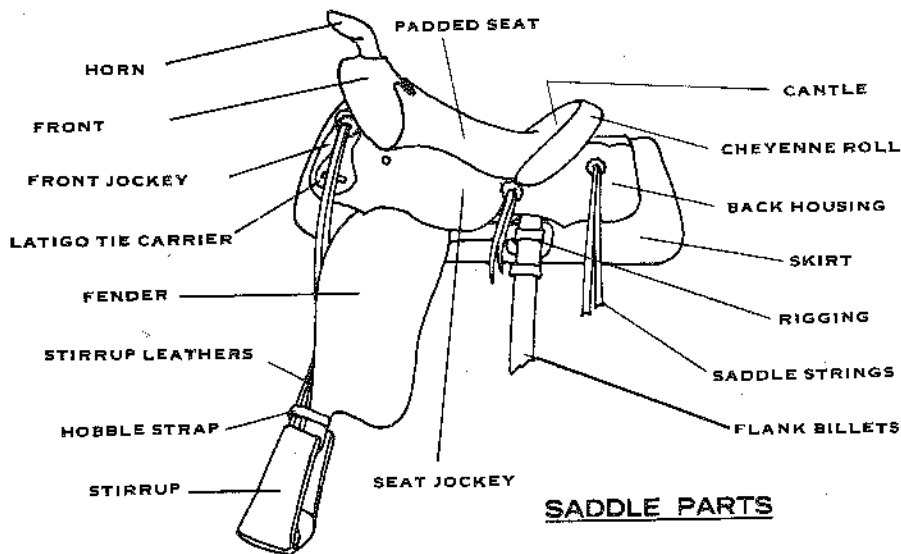

SADDLE RIGGING

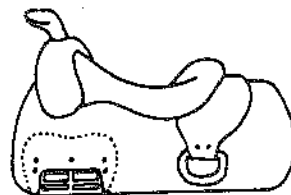

Three Quarter Dee Ring Rigging
 Three quarters double rigging is still a favorite of many riders. This rigging is set back under the stirrup leathers and fenders and positions the saddle forward on the horse's withers.

Full Double Rigging
 This is widely used by professional ropers. Full double rig positions the dee ring directly under the front of the tree.

In Skirt Rigging
 Permits the stirrup leathers and fenders to swing free and reduces the bulk for more riding comfort. Saddle can be cinched very tight with this popular rigging.

Three-Way In Skirt Rigging
 Has extra features that permit you to cinch the saddle on the horse either 3/4, 7/8 or full double by changing the tie strap from one slot to another.

Color & Saddle Information

American Saddlery, Inc. is pleased to present a variety of colors in our new line of saddles and tack. All of the following colors are tested and proven to have long lasting appeal with just reasonable care.

CowTan Antique

The ultimate in antique finish that is rugged enough for the cowboy on weekdays and showy enough for the championship ride on weekends. CowTan Antique is designed to protect and preserve the fine leather in all types of weather conditions and with toughness to withstand ranchhand use. CowTan Antique blends with, rather than covers nature's natural beauty of top grain steer hides. CowTan Antique and steer hides go together like a cowboy and his horse. The best we have developed in 20 years.

GloTan Antique

The glowing brown borders and background with natural leather highlights, add beauty and protection to our riding equipment.

Brown Elegance

Rich dark brown finish that has lasting beauty and eye appeal. If your taste is for the darker colors you'll like this one.

BlacTan Antique

Black borders that are waxed to a high luster blend in with the natural leather highlights and make this color the most attractive and unusual color we have developed.

SurShine Saddle Brown

The luster finish that is easy to care for. Our SurShine saddle finish is still one of the most popular finishes because of its good looks and because it does become more beautiful with age.

Black

Only a few of our saddles are featured in black, however most models can be supplied in black upon request with a short delivery delay.

American Made

Look for the American stamp of quality, you'll be glad you did and here are some important reasons why:

1. American saddles feature the finest saddle skirting leather made.
2. Saddle trees are supplied by the three top producers of trees in the United States.
3. Hardware, fleece, and other materials used are selected from quality suppliers.
4. Hand crafted by skilled saddle makers trained in the art of style, design, and function.

Saddle Selection

Saddle fit is very important, not just to you, but also to your horse. Special care should be given in selecting the gullet height and width as well as for the bar spread. Some adjustment can be made in using a thick pad if your horse has high, narrow withers. Most medium and higher price saddles have standard quarter horse bars and gullet and will properly fit most horses.

Rigging

Many types of rigging are available including the old conventional dee ring rigging, still preferred by many riders and the more modern skirt plate rigging. Most popular priced saddles feature the dee ring rigging. A much heavier and stronger dee ring rigging is featured on roping and ranchhand saddles. The skirt plate rigging which we call "Powder River" is widely used in cutting horse saddles. The skirt plate rig reduces the bulk in the cinch tie and permits freer swing of the fender.

Saddle Mounting

Always inspect your equipment before mounting. A quick check of the rigging, stirrups, tie straps and cinch before each ride, can make horseback riding safer and more enjoyable for you. Any part showing stress or excessive wear should be replaced or repaired. After your equipment passes inspection, select a good saddle pad or saddle blanket and place on the horse's back and withers. Swing the saddle into position and tie the front cinch tightly. The back or flank cinch should be fastened with room for your hand between back cinch and horse's belly. (Warning: Some horses will buck when the back cinch is drawn up tight.) Adjust stirrup leather to a comfortable position and secure the hobble strap to hold fender and stirrup leather in place.

Saddle Care

Your saddle should be cleaned at regular intervals, the frequency depending upon the extent of usage. Saddles and equipment receiving hard usage should be cleaned and saddle soaped weekly. Saddles and equipment receiving only occasional use, should be cleaned and saddle soaped every few weeks. Regular inspection should be made and when any stiffness or dryness appears in any part including but not limited to saddle strings, tie straps, rigging, stirrup leathers, fenders, skirts, or seat, a high quality saddle oil and saddle soap should be applied followed by a good quality leather finish.

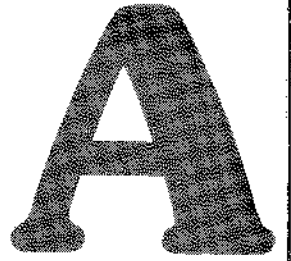

General Information

The inexperienced rider should consult extensively with the tack dealer or riding instructor before attempting to mount a strange horse. There are also many books available covering the proper training of horses and pleasure riding.

Circle A Series

PRIDE

For the discriminating rider whose pride of ownership is reflected in finely-crafted saddlery, American takes pride in presenting our Circle A saddles and riding equipment. We believe, truly, the Circle A collection represents the highest standards in the art of leather crafting. American's 40 years' experience in creating quality saddlery for professional and pleasure use is, indeed, a matter of pride within our family of craftsmen.
